

Chapter 6

“Gross Proceeds of Sales” and “Sales Price”

“Gross proceeds of sales”<sup>1</sup> (or any similar term, such as gross proceeds) is the measure or basis for the sales tax. “Sales price” is the measure or basis for the use tax. Essentially, each term means the total amount for which tangible personal property is sold or purchased.

A. Gross Proceeds<sup>2</sup> and Sales Price<sup>3</sup> – What is Includable?

Gross proceeds is the basis or measure of the sales tax<sup>4</sup> and is the value proceeding or accruing from the sale, lease, or rental of tangible personal property. It includes:

- the proceeds from the sale of tangible personal property; and
- the proceeds from the sale of property sold on consignment by the taxpayer, including property sold through a marketplace by a marketplace facilitator.

Sales price is the basis or measure of the use tax and is the total amount for which tangible personal property is sold, without any deduction for the cost of the property sold, the cost of the materials used, labor or service cost, interest paid, losses, or any other expenses. It includes:

- any services or transportation costs that are a part of the sale, whether paid in money or otherwise;
- any manufacturers or importers excise tax imposed by the United States; and
- the proceeds from the sale of property sold on consignment by the taxpayer, including property sold through a marketplace by a marketplace facilitator.

In calculating gross proceeds or sales price, the retailer may not deduct the following (whether or not such costs are passed on to the customer or separately stated on the bill to the customer):

- the cost of goods sold;
- the cost of materials, labor, or service;
- interest paid;
- losses;

<sup>4</sup> While the term “gross proceeds” is generally applicable to the sales tax and “sales price” is generally applicable to the use tax, the term “gross proceeds” is the basis or measure of the use tax for certain services that are subject to the use tax as well as the sales tax. See South Carolina Code §12-36-1310(B).

- transportation costs;
- manufacturers or importers excise taxes imposed by the United States; or
- any other expenses.

One of the longstanding guiding principles of what is includable in “gross proceeds” was established in Meyers Arnold, Inc. v. South Carolina Tax Commission, 285 S.C. 303, 328 S.E.2d 920 (1985). In that case, the Court of Appeals of South Carolina held the element of service involved in a layaway sale was subject to tax as being part of the sale of tangible personal property. The test used by the court was as follows:

But for the lay away sales, Meyers Arnold would not receive the lay away fees. The fees are obviously charged for the service rendered in making lay away sales. For these reasons, this court holds the lay away fees are part of the gross proceeds and subject to the sales tax.

Accordingly, the total amount charged in conjunction with the sale or purchase of tangible personal property is subject to the tax. This test used by the court would also apply this principle to the use tax in determining what is includable in “sales price.”

Further, additional guiding principles of what is includable in “gross proceeds” were established in Books-a-Million, Inc. v. South Carolina Department of Revenue, Op. No. 28110. (S.C. Sup. Ct. September 14, 2022). In that case, the Supreme Court of South Carolina held that a bookstore annual membership fee that allowed members discounts on the purchase of books and free shipping was includable in “gross proceeds of sales” and subject to the sales tax. The Court held, in part:

The Department contends that our tax code contemplates value not just from sales of tangible goods, but from related costs because of the language “proceeding or accruing” as well as the jurisprudence of this Court. We agree with the Department.

While the membership in question is itself intangible, Taxpayer is liable for sales tax generally because it is engaged in the sale of tangible personal property through the sales of books and other merchandise. The question then is whether the language “value proceeding or accruing from” subjects the bookstore to sales tax on Millionaire's Club memberships. This turns on the relationship between the membership and the sale in question.

Within the relevant statutory language, the term “proceeding” is critical. When used as an intransitive verb as it is in the statute, Merriam-Webster defines “proceed” to mean “to come forth from a source.” See Proceed, Merriam-Webster

Online, <https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/proceed> (last visited November 21, 2021) (listing synonyms of proceed as, “spring, arise, rise, originate, derive, flow, emanate, proceed, stem [which all] mean to come up or out of something into existence.” Further delineating the term by saying “proceed stresses place of origin, derivation, parentage, or logical cause”). For a monetary value to proceed from something, the value must come from it. Here, the value of the club memberships originates from the sale of taxable goods because the only benefit to buying the Millionaire's Club membership is discounts on taxable transactions.

This Court has interpreted our tax code to have broad language which inextricably links value to sales. See Travelscape, LLC v. S.C. Dep't of Revenue, 391 S.C. 89, 97, 705 S.E. 2d 28, 32 (2011) (finding hotel fees, charged by the taxpayer exclusively for services, were subject to sales tax under the plain language of section 12-36-920(A) as gross proceeds because the service was incidental to the purchase of accommodations). (Emphasis added.)

Gross proceeds of sales is “the value proceeding or accruing from the sale, lease, or rental of tangible personal property.” As such, the guiding principles from this statutory language as set forth by the SC Supreme Court in Books-a-Million v. South Carolina Department of Revenue, supra, are:

- the sales tax code “contemplates value not just from sales of tangible goods, but from related costs because of the language ‘proceeding or accruing’” in the definition of “gross proceeds of sales;”
- the determination as to whether a related cost (e.g., fees, charges, services, intangibles) is includable in gross proceeds of sales “turns on the relationship of [such related cost] and the sale in question;”
- the term “proceeding” in the definition of “gross proceeds of sales” is critical; in that, “[f]or a monetary value to proceed from something, the value must come from it.” If the value of a fee, charge, service, intangible, or other related cost originates from the sale of a taxable goods, it is includable on the “gross proceeds of sales of the tangible personal property;” and,
- the statute has “broad language which inextricably links value to sales.” See Travelscape, LLC v. S.C. Dep't of Revenue, 391 S.C. 89, 97, 705 S.E. 2d 28, 32 (2011) where the SC Supreme Court found that charges for the services “were subject to sales tax under the plain language of section 12-36-920(A) as gross proceeds because the service was incidental to the purchase of accommodations.”

Finally, a rebate paid by a third party (i.e., the manufacturer) to the retail customer does not affect “gross proceeds” (the basis for the sales tax) or “sales price” (the basis for the use tax). For example, if Store A sells a product for $1,000 and the customer pays the $1,000 for the product, the tax is still due on the $1,000 even though the manufacturer of the product may at a later date rebate $100 of the sales price to the customer.<sup>5</sup>

Note: Books-a-Million, Inc. has, at the time of publication of this manual, submitted to the South Carolina Supreme Court a request for rehearing.

B. Examples of Charges Included in “Gross Proceeds” and “Sales Price”

Examples of charges included in “gross proceeds” or “sales price” and therefore subject to the sales tax or use tax are:<sup>6</sup>

Fuel surcharges - an additional fee charged by retailers due to the rising costs of gasoline and diesel fuel when making a delivery via their own vehicle.<sup>7</sup>

Charges by an automobile rental company,<sup>8</sup> such as:

- Fueling Charges.
- Charges for Collision Damage Waiver.
- Personal Accident Coverage.
- Extended Protection.
- Personal Effects Coverage.
- Personal Accident and Effects Coverage.

Lease cancellation fees.<sup>9</sup>

Lease compensatory damages received as a result of litigation payments from either a third party guarantor and/or lessee.<sup>10</sup>

Late fees charged when a customer does not pay his bill on time (except for late fees charged with respect to charges for electricity, natural gas, or both).<sup>11</sup>

Late fees charged by a video rental “club.”<sup>12</sup>

Membership fees paid to a video rental “club” if the payment of such fee entitles the purchaser to “free” or discount movie rentals.<sup>13</sup> However, if such fee is in lieu of a security deposit or constitutes only a nominal processing fee and does not include “free” or discount movie rentals, the fee is not subject to the tax.

Membership fees charged by a membership only warehouse offering a selection of brand name merchandise to business owners and others where one type of member receives a benefit that another type of membership does not receive. For example, one type of member pays only the posted wholesale price, while another type of temporary membership pays the posted wholesale price plus a 5% surcharge.<sup>14</sup>

Membership fees charged by a book retailer that entitle members to obtain discounts on their purchases of tangible personal property.<sup>15</sup>

Membership fees charged by an online shopping website that entitle members to stream digital content, free or discounted shipping on purchases of tangible personal property, and discounted pricing on purchases of tangible personal property.<sup>16</sup>

Local hospitality taxes authorized under South Carolina Code §6-1-700 et seq. and local accommodations fees imposed by ordinance prior to March 15, 1997 and authorized under Section 10 of Act No. 138 of 1997, if the fee or tax is imposed upon the retailer.<sup>17</sup> (See examples below of charges not includable in gross proceeds for other local taxes and fees.)

City or county franchise fees imposed upon a cable television system and calculated as a percentage of the cable television system’s gross receipts, regardless of whether it is passed on to customers as a separately stated item on the bill or is included in the overall charge for cable services.<sup>18</sup>

Delivery or transportation charges:<sup>19</sup>

- where the seller, by use of a common carrier, effects such delivery and the sale is made F.O.B. point of destination or place of business of the buyer.<sup>20</sup>
- where the seller, by use of his own means of transportation, effects such delivery.<sup>21</sup>
- where the seller effects delivery from the factory directly to the seller's customer when the transportation is paid by the seller either to a transportation company, the manufacturer, or by way of credit to his customer for transportation costs paid by the customer and deducted from the seller's invoice.<sup>22</sup>

Fabrication labor that is a part of the manufacturing, compounding, processing, or fabrication of tangible personal property for sale or resale.<sup>23</sup>

Installation labor incident to the sale of tangible personal property when such charges are not separately stated from the sales price of the property on billing to customers or when the seller's books and records of account do not show the reasonableness of such labor in relation to the sales price of the property.<sup>24</sup>

Gratuities or an amount or percentage, regardless of its designation, added to the price of meals pursuant to a requirement of the retailer furnishing such meals, even though all or a part thereof may be paid by the retailer to his employees.<sup>25</sup>

Finance and carrying charges when the established price for the goods includes an amount to cover a finance or carrying charge.<sup>26</sup>

Engraving charges by a trophy shop when the charge for engraving is in conjunction with the sale of the trophy.<sup>31</sup>

Charges billed by a photographer for materials, labor, and other expenses as part of the sale of photographic transparencies and prints.<sup>32</sup>

Manufacturer’s Coupon - For example, if an item normally sells for $5.00 and the customer pays $4.00 and presents a manufacturer’s coupon valued at $1.00, then the tax is based on $5.00 (“gross proceeds” or “sales price”) since the retailer receives $4.00 from the customer and $1.00 from the manufacturer.<sup>33</sup>

Sales Price of Returned Merchandise if the retailer does not refund the purchaser the full sales price in cash or by credit.<sup>34</sup> If a purchaser returns merchandise to the retailer and receives a refund or credit that is less than the price originally paid because the retailer retains a portion of the price paid as a “restocking” or “handling” fee or for any other reason, then the original price is subject to the tax.

Marketplace sales, consignment sales, auction sales, and other similar sales of property owned by others – Any person engaged in business as a retailer is required to remit the sales and use tax on all retail sales of tangible personal property not otherwise excluded or exempted from the tax. Retailers selling tangible personal property at retail on consignment, by auction, or in any other manner must remit the sales and use tax on such retail sales.

As noted above in "Examples of Charges included in Gross Proceeds," payments received as a result of coupons from third parties, such as manufacturers, (where the retailer will receive a payment from a third party in addition to the payment from the customer) are includable in gross proceeds and subject to the tax.

E. Gross Proceeds – Withdrawals for Use

Gross proceeds also includes the fair market value<sup>77</sup> of tangible personal property previously purchased at wholesale which is withdrawn from the business or stock and used or consumed in connection with the business or used or consumed by any person withdrawing it.

Tangible personal property withdrawn from inventory and used or consumed in connection with the business or used or consumed by the person withdrawing it includes, but is not limited to, tangible personal property used by the business,<sup>78</sup> given to employees for their personal use, or given to employees to give away to customers or potential customers as a promotion<sup>79</sup> or for purposes of goodwill.

The imposition of the sales tax upon a withdrawal for use does not apply to:

- (i) withdrawal of tangible personal property previously withdrawn and taxed by such business or person;
- (ii) tangible personal property which becomes an ingredient or component part of tangible personal property manufactured or compounded for sale;
- (iii) tangible personal property replacing defective parts under written warranty contracts if:
  - (A) the warranty, maintenance, service, or similar contract is given without charge at the time of original purchase of the defective property,

To be included in gross proceeds of sales is the money value of property purchased at wholesale for resale purposes and subsequently withdrawn from stock for use or consumption by the purchaser.

The value to be placed upon such goods is the price at which these goods are offered for sale by the person withdrawing them. All cash or other customary discounts which he would allow to his customers may be deducted; however, in no event can the amount used as gross proceeds of sales be less than the amount paid for the goods by the person making the withdrawal.

See also, Colonial Stores, Inc. v. South Carolina Tax Commission, 253 S.C. 14, 168 S.E.2d 774, 776 (1969), where the South Carolina Supreme Court stated:

That both parties regarded the premium merchandise as being acquired for use by Colonial rather than for resale and, hence, subject to a use tax is further evidenced by the fact that the tax was paid and collected on the basis of the cost of the premium merchandise to Colonial in accordance with Sec. [12-36-1310(A)] of the Code, rather than its reasonable market value. A different rule of valuation applies where goods are purchased for resale but later withdrawn from stock and used by the taxpayer. In such case, the withdrawal is, in effect, treated as a sale at retail and the basis of valuation for tax purposes is "the reasonable and fair market value" of the tangible property withdrawn. (Emphasis added)

<sup>78</sup> See South Carolina Revenue Ruling #15-1 concerning businesses that rent kayaks and paddle boards but also withdraw the same kayaks and paddle boards from inventory for use in conducting tours.

- (B) the tax was paid on the sale of the defective part or on the sale of the property of which the defective part was a component, and
- (C) the warrantee is not charged for any labor or materials;
- (iv) an automobile furnished without charge to a high school for use solely in student driver training programs;
- (v) a new motor vehicle used by a dealer as a demonstrator.

Since a withdrawal, use, or consumption of tangible personal property purchased at wholesale each constitutes a “retail sale,” any one such event occurring in South Carolina constitutes a “retail sale” within South Carolina and is subject to the tax based on the fair market value of the tangible personal property that is withdrawn, used, or consumed in connection with the business or used or consumed by the person withdrawing it.

For example:<sup>80</sup>

(1) If tangible personal property is withdrawn from inventory in South Carolina for use or consumption inside or outside of South Carolina, then the sales tax is due based on the fair market value of the tangible personal property since the withdrawal (“retail sale”) of the tangible personal property occurred within South Carolina.

(2) If tangible personal property is withdrawn from inventory outside of South Carolina for use or consumption in South Carolina and then used and consumed in South Carolina, then the use tax is due based on the fair market value of the tangible personal property since the withdrawal outside of South Carolina constitutes a “purchase at retail” and the use or consumption of the tangible personal property occurred within South Carolina.

However, a credit under South Carolina Code §12-36-1310(C) will be allowed against the South Carolina use tax for any sales or use tax legally due and paid in the other state on the withdrawal occurring in that state.

(3) If tangible personal property is transferred from inventory in South Carolina to an inventory outside of South Carolina where it will be held for sale, then no sales tax is due if any tangible personal property is subsequently withdrawn, used, or consumed outside of South Carolina since a withdrawal, use, or consumption (“retail sale”) of the tangible personal property has not occurred in South Carolina. If, however, any tangible personal property is subsequently withdrawn from the inventory outside of South Carolina for use or consumption in South Carolina, see item #2 above for guidance.

(4) If tangible personal property is transferred from inventory outside of South Carolina to an inventory in South Carolina where it will be held for sale, then no sales tax is due until the tangible personal property is either sold at retail in South Carolina or is withdrawn, used, or consumed (“retail sale”) in South Carolina.

The following charts are intended to provide examples for most taxpayers who withdraw, use, or consume tangible personal property from inventory in connection with their business or who withdraw, use, or consume tangible personal property from inventory for their personal use.<sup>81</sup>

Situation #1 – Employee’s Personal Use: Tangible personal property has been purchased at wholesale by a wholesaler or retailer for resale to retailers or consumers. The tangible personal property will be stored in inventory at a distribution facility, warehouse, or retail facility. Some items in inventory will not be sold, but withdrawn from the inventory and sent to employees to personally use or consume. Examples include, but are not limited to, clothing, sporting equipment, or household items the employee will wear or use or consume.

Situation #2 – Sent to Employee to Give Away as Promotion: Tangible personal property has been purchased at wholesale by a wholesaler or retailer for resale to retailers or consumers. The tangible personal property will be stored in inventory at a distribution facility, warehouse, or retail facility. Some items in inventory will not be sold, but withdrawn from the inventory and sent to employees to give away free of charge to customers as a promotion. <sup>85</sup> The determination that tangible personal property is available for sale while being shown or displayed by an employee will be based on the facts and circumstance as supported by the taxpayer’s records. Factors to consider in making this determination include but are not limited to, the taxpayer’s operational requirements or restrictions, whether the product is subsequently discounted when sold due to use, the employees’ history of selling or not selling the samples, etc. If the facts and circumstances and the taxpayer’s records do not support that the tangible personal property is available for sale, the Department will apply the tax as set forth in Scenario #4.

Note: In this Scenario #5, it states that tangible personal property sent to employees as a sample to show or display to customers is not subject to the tax if the sample is still available for sale while being shown or displayed by the employee, unless “otherwise used or consumed by the employee or business in South Carolina.” Examples of samples available for sales that are “otherwise used or consumed by the employee or business in South Carolina” include, but are not limited to: (1) an employee who shows or displays the sample but also demonstrates how the product is used such as demonstrating the effectiveness of a vacuum cleaner; (2) an employee who shows and displays the sample but gives it away to the customer as a promotion or an enticement to buy the product; and (3) an employee who shows or displays the sample but also uses a sample for his own personal use. The determination as to whether samples that are available for sale are “otherwise used or consumed by the employee or business in South Carolina” will be based on the facts and circumstances.

F. Gross Proceeds – Promotional Items Provided to Customers for No Consideration, a Nominal Consideration, or an Amount Significantly Below Cost

Where tangible personal property is purchased by a retailer for resale and is transferred from the retailer to a customer for no consideration, a nominal consideration, or an amount significantly below cost, the tangible personal property is considered a promotional item withdrawn from inventory and used or consumed by the retailer.

For example, if a retailer normally sells a cell phone for $200, but a customer can purchase the cell phone for $0.01 by exchanging a certain number of loyalty points, then the cell phone is considered a promotional item withdrawn from inventory and used or consumed by the retailer. Thus, the amount includable in gross proceeds is $200, the fair market value of the cell phone.

The presumption that tangible personal property sold for an amount that is a nominal consideration, or an amount that is significantly below cost, is a promotional item withdrawn from inventory and used and consumed by the retailer may be rebuttable for clearance sales, end-of-season sales, fire sales, going-out-of-business sales, two-for-one sales, and other traditional store sales where the retailer can document that the transaction is a “true” sale and not a promotional give-away.<sup>89</sup>

G. Gross Proceeds – Withdrawals for Use in Rental Business

SC Regulation 117-318.4 specifically addresses retailers that rent tangible personal property and also withdraw, use, or consume the same tangible personal property, and states:

Where a person customarily rents tangible personal property and customarily withdraws the same for his own use, storage or consumption, a tax is due by such person on each withdrawal for use, the tax to be measured by the amount he would customarily receive as rental had the property been leased or rented for a like period of time. In the alternative the tax may be paid on the full purchase price of the property and no further liability incurred on withdrawals for use. Having once elected either method of reporting on withdrawals for use, the taxpayer must so continue unless and until permission has been received from the department in writing to make a change. Regardless of the method selected for accounting for the tax on withdrawals for use, the tax is due on all amounts proceeding or accruing from the rental, lease or sale of the property.

For example, if a business rents kayaks and paddle boards and also conducts tours using the same kayaks and paddle boards, then:

- a. The rentals of the kayaks and paddle boards by the business to customers are subject to the state sales and use tax, plus any applicable local sales and use tax.

- b. The use of the same kayaks and paddle boards in providing tours is a “withdrawal for use” subject to the state sales tax, plus any applicable local sales tax. The business may elect one of two methods to pay the tax on its withdrawals for use: (i) the business may purchase all its kayaks and paddle boards at retail by paying the tax to the seller at the time of purchase or remitting the use tax directly to the Department on its purchase of the kayaks and paddle boards and no further tax is due on any future withdrawal for use of the kayaks and paddle boards when used in providing a tour; or (ii) the business may purchase all its kayaks and paddle boards at wholesale (not subject to the tax) and remit the tax on the fair market rental value of a kayak or paddle board each time it is used in providing a tour.<sup>90</sup>

Therefore, if a business rents kayaks for $20 per hour, then all such rentals are subject to the State sales and use tax, plus any applicable local sales and use tax. When the same kayak is also used in providing a tour that costs $100 per hour, then the sales tax is due on $20 of each $100 as a “withdrawal for use” of the kayak for the tour. However, if the business had elected to remit the tax to the seller or directly to the Department at the time of its purchase of the kayaks and paddle boards, then no tax would be due on the subsequent “withdrawal for use” of the kayak for each tour.<sup>91</sup>

Note: As stated in the above regulation, “[h]aving once elected either method of reporting on withdrawals for use, the taxpayer must so continue unless and until permission has been received from the department in writing to make a change.”

<sup>90</sup> As stated in SC Regulation 117-318.4, “[h]aving once elected either method of reporting on withdrawals for use, the taxpayer must so continue unless and until permission has been received from the department in writing to make a change.”

<sup>91</sup> See SC Revenue Ruling #15-1. This revenue ruling also provides guidance with respect to businesses that only rent kayaks and paddle boards and do not conduct tours and businesses that only conduct tours and do not rent kayaks and paddle boards.
