

Any person may transport alcoholic liquors to and from any place where alcoholic liquors may be lawfully possessed or consumed; but if the cap or seal on the container has been opened or broken, it shall be unlawful to transport such liquors in any motor vehicle, except in the luggage compartment or cargo area.